Approximate position, lat. 1° 16′ N., long. 104° 22′ E.

Coringa islands—Existence of a coral bank to the south-westward.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 946 of 1903) of the existence of a bank on which a sounding of 7 fathoms was obtained, situated at a distance of 8½ miles, S. 67° W. from South-west island, Coringa islands.

Approximate position, lat. 17° 0½′ S., long. 149° 49′ E.

The ship passed over this bank at noon, whilst the meridian altitude of the sun was being obtained, the bottom, composed of coral and sand, being plainly discernible, so it is probable that there may be less water over it than 7 fathoms. The bank appeared to extend about one mile in a northerly and southerly direction, and one-third of a mile in an easterly and westerly direction. The depths gradually increased to the westward, and at one mile from the bank a sounding of 42 fathoms was obtained, and no bottom at 100 fathoms at a distance of two miles from it.

Final forecast of the Indigo Crop of Bengal, 1903.

Character of the season.—Indigo is now grown mainly in the following districts of Bengal :—

	Acres.
Champaran	84,000
Muzaffarpur	48,000
Darbhanga	33,700
Purnea	23,000
Saran	19,300
Bhagalpur	12,000
Monghyr	11,500

The character of the season prevailing in these districts, therefore, determines the character of the crop. In January rainfall was defective in all these districts. In February and March it was scanty, but sufficient for germination. In April and May the conditions were more unfavourable, as the weather was very droughty. In June the rainfall, though deficient, was sufficient for improving the character of the crop. July was again droughty. In August the rainfall was above the normal, except in Darbhanga and Monghyr. In September the rainfall, though light, was frequent, and in October it was copious, early in and again towards the end of, the month. The season, though unfavourable at the beginning, was thus highly favourable towards the middle and end.

Area sown.—Since the issue of the preliminary forecast, the Collectors of Murshidabad and Jessore have revised their estimates of normal area. The normal area under indigo in these Provinces now stands at 379,100 acres. But in the face of the steady contraction of area, due to competition of the natural product with the synthetic dye, the normal area must now be revised, and the District Officers will be asked to give revised figures. The actual area under the crop this year is estimated at 249,700 acres, against 255,500 acres sown last year.

Character of the crop.—From Appendix I it will be seen, that except in Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas, District Officers everywhere expect an outturn below the normal. For the four districts of North Bihar the outturn is estimated at 59 per cent. of a normal crop. For the four districts, viz, Gaya, Shahabad, Bhagalpur, and Purnea, the District Officers' estimate is 89 per cent. For the remaining districts their estimate is 64 per cent. Of the seven important districts enumerated in paragraph 1, Purnea returns a 100 per cent. crop, Monghyr 85 per cent., Darbhanga 83 per cent, Bhagalpur 70 per cent., Saran 55 per cent., and Champaran and Muzaffarpur 51 per cent. of a normal crop. Since the issue of the preliminary forecast, the prospects of the crop have improved in eight districts, including the five important districts: Saran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, and Monghyr. An outturn of 60 per cent. for North Bihar, 90 per cent. for Gaya, Shahabad, Purnea, and Bhagalpur, and 65 per cent. of a normal crop in the rest of Bengal may be expected.

Outturn—Assuming the normal yield of indigo for Bihar to be 20 lbs. per acre, and for the rest of the Bengal districts to be 12 lbs. per acre, the total yield of indigo in North Bihar, according to my estimate, comes to 31,525, for other Bihar districts to 8,580, and for the rest of Bengal to 1,850, Factory Maunds, or to a total of about 42,000 Factory Maunds.

Messrs. Moran & Co., in their Market Report No. 24, dated 15th October 1903, estimate the outturn for North Bihar districts at 40,500 Factory Maunds, and for the rest of Bengal at 6,500 Factory Maunds.

SUPERSESSION OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE NADIA MUNICIPALITY, IN THE DISTRICT OF NADIA, UNDER SECTION 65 OF THE BENGAL MUNICIPAL ACT III OF 1884.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 4th January 1904.

RESOLUTION No. 32M.

READ—

Inspection Report on the Nadia Municipality, dated 10th October 1896, by Dr. Hay Jagannadham, Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, Metropolitan and Eastern Bengal Circle, bringing to notice the insanitary condition of the Municipality, and recommending the extension of the provisions of Part IX of the Bengal Municipal Act to that Municipality.

Inspection Report on the Nadia Municipality, dated October 1900, by Captain L. Rogers, I.M.S., Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, Metropolitan and Eastern Bengal Circle, strongly advocating the extension of Part IX of the Municipal Act to the Municipality.

Letter from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, No 45M., dated 10th June 1903, reporting the persistent default made by the Municipal Commissioners of Nadia in carrying out sanitary reforms in their town.

From—L. P. SHIRRES, Esq., Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Municipal Department,
To—The Commissioner of the Presidency Division.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 45M., dated the 10th June 1903, in which you bring to the notice of Government the fact that the Municipal Commissioners of Nadia have made persistent default in performing the duties with regard to the sanitation of the town which are imposed upon them by the Bengal Municipal Act III of 1884 as amended up to 1st November 1896, and in which you request that an order fixing a time for the performance of those duties may be issued by Government under section 64 of the Act. In reply I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor has reviewed the recent history of the Municipality in regard to sanitary improvement, and I am to recapitulate the salient facts and to convey the remarks made and the orders passed by His Honour with reference to them.

2. The insanitary condition of the Nadia Municipality was brought prominently to notice in September 1896, by the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, Dr. Hay Jagannadham, who drew attention in his inspection report on the town to the fact that there were no less than 825 well-privies within its limits. He pointed out to the Municipal Commissioners the highly dangerous and insanitary conditions which result from such a method of disposing of sewage, and laid special stress on the contamination of the sources of water-supply which is a necessary consequence of the system. A reference was made to two occasions on which certain of the more enlightened of the Commissioners, who had attempted to extend to their town the provisions of Part IX of the Municipal Act for the cleansing of private privies and cess-pools, had been outvoted. The report advised the early adoption of these provisions of the law, and recommended the abolition of the well-prives and the disposal of night-soil by trenching. The Municipal Commissioners, however, wholly disregarded these recommendations, and took no action in the matter.

3. The next inspection of the town was made in October 1900 by Captain Rogers, I.M.S., Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, who also strongly advocated the extension to it of Part IX of the Municipal Act. In support of his recommendation Captain Rogers recorded the following remarks—"As the whole area of the town is a small one, and much of it, especially the bazars, is greatly crowded, Part IX should certainly be extended to the whole Municipality. During the four fairs which take place annually, the whole town, and especially the Lodging House quarter, is much over-crowded; and as the pilgrims come from a wide area, any outbreak of cholera during such a time would not only be a most serious thing in this town, but would be a great danger to a large area around it. There is no place that I know of in this Division where the application of Part IX is of such urgent importance, and steps to introduce it should be taken without further delay." Captain Rogers' advice, however, was similarly rejected by the Municipal Commissioners, who declared that "the town was not in a position where Part IX of the Act could be extended throughout the Municipality."

4. In April 1902, Mr. Finucane, then Commissioner of the Division, desired the Magistrate of Nadia to draw the attention of the Commissioners to the remarks contained in the letter from the Sanitary Commissioner, No. 8044 of the 24th July 1901, in support of the recommendations made for the extension of Part IX of the Municipal Act, a copy of which had already been forwarded to them, and to impress upon them the absolute necessity of extending those provisions to at least the most crowded parts of the town. These instructions, however, failed as before to induce the Municipal Commissioners to take any action in the matter, and on the 10th June 1902 the Magistrate reported that they had again declared that the introduction of Part IX was unnecessary, and that they had assigned in support of their resolution the following reasons:—

(1) That Part IX had already been introduced in the Lodging-house quarter, which is the thickly populated portion of the town, and to which pilgrims resort in large numbers during the occasions when fairs are held;

(2) That the health of the town was far better than that of any other town in the district to which Part IX had been introduced;

(3) That the level of the town was very low, and that it was often inundated during the rainy season;

(4) That the water for drinking and generally for cooking purposes was exclusively procured from the river Bhagirathi; and

(5) That the town was chiefly inhabited by poor people (Pandits and Bairagis) who are unable to bear the burden of a latrine tax.

These objections, however, were considered to be irrelevant and untenable, and the first of them is incorrect, as Part IX is not in force in any portion of the town.

5. Shortly after the Magistrate's report was submitted, Mr. Finucane visited the town in company with the late Sir John Woodburn. In consequence of this visit Mr. Finucane wrote to the Sanitary Commissioner that he was satisfied that the people of the place, so far from being poor as alleged by the Municipal Commissioners, were in prosperous circumstances, and that as the incidence of taxation was so low as 7 annas and 5 pies per head, they were well able to bear any additional tax which the introdution of Part IX would impose on them; but as he was unwilling to resort to extreme measures, he suggested that the Sanitary Commissioner or the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner should again visit the town and discuss the matter with the Magistrate and the Municipal Commissioners, and that a further report should then be submitted regarding the necessity for extending to the town the portion of the Municipal Act referred to.

6. In accordance with these instructions, Captain Anderson, I.M.S., Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, visited Nadia in company with the Magistrate of the district. Four samples of water which were taken from the wells adjacent to the well-prives of the town in the course of their visit were submitted for chemical and bacteriological examination to the Professor of Pathology, Medical College, Calcutta. Captain Deare, I.M.S., the Sanitary Commissioner, in submitting the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner's report, made remarks to the following effect:—"The results of the bacteriological examination prove that the water-supply is so polluted as to be unfit for human consumption, as it contains large numbers of colon bacilli. Even the sample of river water taken from the ghât from which the people obtain their supply of drinking water is found to be bacteriologically impure. Seeing that there are about 700 well-privies dotted about the town, the contents of which can percolate freely through the sandy soil of Nadia into the sources of water-supply, one cannot be surprised at the extent of contamination of well-water which these reports prove to have taken place, and I cannot view without horror the continued use of these foci for the dissemination of disease." In answer to the argument of the Commissioners that the health of the town was good and that the death-rate was below the Provincial average, the Sanitary Commissioner showed that the mortality of the town was increasing year after year, as shown by the figures noted in the margin—a fact significant of the growing unhealthiness of the Municipality, which he attributed mainly to the pollution of the soil which was going on in an ever-widening circle from the well-privies. He accordingly suggested that all well-privies should be closed by a certain specified date, and that if the Commissioners should refuse to take action, Government should intervene, and by the adoption of stringent measures should cause the privies to be closed under the Plague Regulations, as had been done at Ranaghat in 1898.

1901	...	31·98

7. The Sanitary Commissioner's letter as well as the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner's report were laid before the Municipal Commissioners, who were at the same time asked to give effect to Captain Deare's recommendations. The Commissioners, however, declined to follow this advice, and recorded a resolution declaring that they were unable to comply with the request of the Sanitary Commissioner with regard to the extension of Part IX of the Municipal Act to the whole town, because they apprehended that there were "insurmountable practical difficulties" in the way of carrying out the measure.

8. In submitting this resolution to the Commissioner of the Presidency Division the Magistrate of Nadia recommended that an order might be issued under section 64 of the Bengal Municipal Act directing the Commissioners of the Nadia Municipality to carry out the measures described below:—

(1) To prepare a scheme for the removal and disposal, within a specified period, of night-soil and sullage water, first from the more crowded portion of the town and eventually from the whole Municipality.

(2) To cause a valuation of holdings to be made by a paid Assessor and to fix a scale of latrine fees to be levied under section 321 of the Bengal Municipal Act.

(3) To require householders to erect surface latrines, to empty all cesspits, and to fill them up with earth by a certain date.

These proposals have your support, but they cannot be given effect to unless Part IX of the Municipal Act is extended to the Nadia Municipality. The Lieutenant-Governor is advised that action with a view to such an extension must be taken under section 65 and not section 64 of the Act.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor has carefully examined the position, and observes that repeated opportunities have been given to the Municipal Commissioners of Nadia to effect the sanitary reforms which are considered by the authorities best able to form a correct judgment on the subject to be urgently necessary for the preservation of the health of the town. They have deliberately refused to avail themselves of those opportunities, and have made persistent default in the performance of their duties; and their action is all the more reprehensible in that Nadia is a town where insanitary conditions are peculiarly dangerous on account of the constant influx of pilgrims. In these circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor would have no option but to accept the recommendation of the Commissioner of the Presidency Division and have recourse to the controlling sections of the Act, were it not that similar orders have very recently been passed in the case of the Santipur Municipality. His Honour, however, hopes that a consideration of those orders will induce the Municipal Commissioners of Nadia to change their attitude and to carry out the reforms which have been so repeatedly pressed upon them; for if they decline to accept the advice of the Sanitary Commissioner, his recommendations will, on their supersession, be carried out by the District Magistrate I am therefore to ask that when two months have elapsed from the date on which a copy of this letter is communicated to the Chairman of the Nadia Municipality, you will submit a further report on the subject. If within that time the Municipal Commissioners have not taken vigorous action in the directions pointed out, similar orders to those passed in the case of the Santipur Municipality will be made applicable to them.

The following letter from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, No. 199M., dated the 12th December 1903, and enclosure :—

From—E. W. Collin, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

With reference to the orders of Government contained in its letter No. 2360T.—3M., dated the 14th September 1903, regarding the introduction, by the Municipal Commissioners of Nadia, of certain sanitary reforms into their town, I have the honour to report that, as desired by Government, a copy of the orders quoted above was communicated to the Municipal Commissioners on the 23rd September 1903. A meeting was held by them on the 24th October 1903, at which they resolved to introduce the provisions of Part IX of the Bengal Municipal Act only into a certain limited area of the Municipality, as specified in the proceedings of the meeting, a copy of which is herein enclosed.

2. Mr. Mallik, the Magistrate of the district, went personally to Nadia on the 31st October 1903, and accompanied by the Chairman and some of the Municipal Commissioners, inspected the area in to which it is proposed to introduce Part IX. He discussed with the Municipal Commissioners the question of introducing the provisions into the whole town, and requested them to reconsider their decision in the matter, but to no purpose. The Chairman, Rai Dwarka Nath Bhattacharjee Bahadur did, it is said, all he could to induce the Commissioners to agree to the introduction of Part IX in the whole of the town, but he was outvoted at the meeting which passed the resolution in question. The Magistrate says that from their conversation he understood that it was not the intention of the Municipal Commissioners to introduce Part IX even gradually into the whole municipal area

3. The Magistrate further reports that the area into which the Municipal Commissioners have resolved to introduce Part IX, is the lodging-house quarter and is only about one-eighth in extent of the whole Municipality. There are but few pucka houses within this area, and most of the permanent residents of the town live outside it. It appears that there are altogether 1,167 well-privies in the town, and the number within the area into which the Municipal Commissioners propose to introduce Part IX is about 510. The Magistrate is of opinion that Part IX should be introduced into the whole of the urban part of the Municipality, leaving out only those parts which are entirely rural and which lie on the outskirts of the town.

4. I fully agree with the Magistrate in thinking that the resolution passed by the Municipal Commissioners is not a sufficient compliance with the orders of Government and that Part IX should be introduced at least into the whole of the urban part of the Municipality. As all attempts to induce the Commissioners to take the necessary action have proved ineffective, I think there is now no option left but to supersede them under section 65 of the Act I, therefore, recommend that an order be passed under section 65 superseding the Municipal Commissioners for a period of one year, as in the case of Santipur, and that Babu Barada Das Basu, Deputy Magistrate in charge of the Lodging-house Department of the Nadia Magistrate's office, be vested with the necessary powers under section 66 (b) of the Act for the performance of the duties of the Municipal Commissioners during that period.

ENCLOSURE.

Proceedings of the monthly meeting of the Municipal Commissioners of Nadia, held on the 24th October 1903.

1. The proceedings of the last monthly meeting held on the 19th September and the special meeting held on the 13th October were read and confirmed.

2. The Chairman then rose and addressed the meeting on the subject of introducing Part IX of the Municipal Act into the whole town. He hoped that after what had passed, the Commissioners would agree to the introduction of Part IX into the whole of the town. It had been suggested that Protappur, a cluster of huts detached from the town and surrounded by fields all round, might be excluded from the operation of the Act. It had also been suggested that Muchipara, outside the embankments of the town, might be excluded. Some are also for excluding the Teghori to the south of the town. The Chairman was prepared to hear any objection that might be urged against the introduction of the Act into the whole town, but his proposal was that Part IX should be introduced into the whole town.

Babu Arun Chandra Chatterjee seconded the Chairman.

Babu Ram Das Mukerjee then rose and proposed the following amendment:

That Part IX of the Municipal Act be introduced into the following area only, viz., the area bounded by the River Bhagirathi on the east and North Dandapanitala Ghât Road on the south, and on the west by a line commencing from the point where the Dandapanitala Ghât Road meets the eastern embankment of the town and extending northward along that embankment up to Mati Rai's Atchala, thence westward and then northward along Bongopara Road up to Paran Doctor's Dispensary, thence eastward along Ram Raja Tala or Bow-Bazaar Road up to Chowmatha, thence northward along Tilipara Road, thence eastward along Kansaripali Road, thence northward along Chandra Shaha's Lane, thence northward along Gantala Road up to the northern embankment of the town and thence to the River.

He said that "the number of privies within this area was not less than 510 and two of the wells and the river ghât of which the water was examined by the Deputy Sanitary Commissioner fall within this area. Pilgrims resort to this area. This portion is thickly populated. Whenever any disease breaks out on account of the influx of pilgrims it is here that it originates.

"The people of Nabadwipa drink the river water only, hence to protect the river water from pollution it is necessary to close the well-privies of this area and to substitute surface privies in their place. If the Act were introduced into this area only at first the outlay necessary for the purchase of tools and plant and cattle would not be too much for this poor Municipality to meet as it would be if the Act were introduced into the whole."

Babu Benode Lal Goswami seconded the amendment. It was then put to the vote and carried, the Chairman and Babu Arun Chandra Chatterjee alone dissenting.

ORDER.

In the letter of the 14th September 1903, cited in the preamble, the Lieutenant-Governor expressed the hope that a consideration of the orders passed in another case would induce the Municipal Commissioners of Nadia to change their attitude and carry out the reforms which had been so repeatedly pressed upon them; and he pointed out that, if they declined to accept the advice of the Sanitary Commissioner, they would be superseded so that the necessary reforms might be carried out by the District Magistrate. The letter of the 12th December 1903, from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, which is quoted in full above, shows how they have failed to avail themselves of this last opportunity which was granted to them. Their conduct leaves to Sir Andrew Fraser no option but to put into force the order of supersession which was held in abeyance by his predecessor.

2. The Lieutenant-Governor is therefore constrained to record his finding that a serious evil exists at Nadia for which the law prescribes a remedy : he finds that the Municipal Commissioners have persistently made default in the performance of their duties and have also proved themselves incompetent, in that, having the power to carry out the improvements urgently needed for the health and sanitation of the town, they have deliberately failed to exercise it, and although repeatedly and earnestly advised by the authorities best able to estimate their requirements, they have persistently refused to carry out the requisite reforms.

3. His Honour therefore declares by this order, issued under section 65 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, that the Commissioners of the Nadia Municipality are incompetent to perform and persistently make default in the performance of their duties, and he directs that they be superseded for the period of one year with effect from the date of the publication of this resolution in the Calcutta Gazette. In exercise of the powers conferred by section 66 of the Act, the Lieutenant-Governor further directs that all the powers and duties of the Commissioners shall, during the period of supersession, be exercised and performed by Babu Barada Das Basu, Deputy Magistrate in charge of the Lodging-house Department of the office of the Magistrate of Nadia.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor orders also that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

L. P. SHIRRES,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), under date Calcutta, the 8th December 1899.

RESOLUTION.

THE Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject, and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians who desire to return to their country and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

2. In order to enable the Secretary of State to deal with such cases satisfactorily, the Governor-General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England the desirablity of providing themselves, before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of indentity, in the form appended to this Resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

STATE TECHNICAL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR NATIVES OF INDIA.

1. WITH a view to provide for natives of India the higher technical education which may qualify them to assist in promoting the improvement of existing native industries, and the development of new industries wherever this may be possible, the Government of India are ready, as an experimental measure, to give a small number of Technical scholarships, if promising candidates, well-qualified in some particular branch of industry, present themselves. The outlines of the scheme are sketched out below :—

2. Value of the scholarships.—The value of the scholarships has been fixed at £150 a year, in addition to fees payable to the institutions where the scholars will study, and travelling expenses; but Government will consider proposals for increasing it in special cases.

3. Places and periods of tenure.—Each scholarship is tenable for an average period of two years, which may be increased or reduced in special cases.

4. The scholarships may be held in Great Britain, on the Continent of Europe, or in America, and are payable from the date of the scholar's arrival in the country which he may select for study.

5. Subjects of study.—Law, Medicine, Forestry, Veterinary Science, Agriculture and Engineering have been excluded from the scope of the present proposal. The scholarships are in the first instance proposed to be used for the encouragement of the mining industry in Bengal, but any other branch of industry can similarly be helped and fostered. Industries in which native capital and enterprise are engaged, or likely to be engaged, and in which the trained scholar might, on return to his country, find scope for his skill and ability, will be particularly appropriate for selection.

6. Conditions of award.—The scholarships are tenable by persons who are natives of India within the meaning of section 6 of the Statute, 33 Vic., Cap. 3. A competent knowledge of English, or the language of any other country in which the candidate proposes to work and study, is essential to enable him to take full advantage of the course of study.

7. In the matter of selection of scholars, Government will be guided by considerations of the candidate's capacity, intelligence, particular interest in and connection with the industry selected, and the assurance that he will continue to devote himself to the subject on his return to India. These being matters which cannot be decided by the holding of degrees obtained, by examination, or by competition, no special examination is considered necessary and none will be held. But a scholar before nomination should have received the best technical education available in the Province, in the particular industry which he has to study, and no candidate will be considered qualified unless he has displayed an aptitude for technical study.

8. No age limit has been fixed. But it may be fixed by Government in certain cases.

9. The candidates for scholarships will be called upon to submit certificates attesting (a) their moral character, (b) knowledge of the language of the country in which they elect to study, and (c) physical capacity, from recognized persons who may be considered fit to certify to these facts.

10. The scholars in England or elsewhere, as the case may be, will be under the control and supervision of the Secretary of State. The conditions under which they will hold the scholarships will be similar to those laid down for Government of India scholarships, and power will be retained to cancel a scholarship and to send the scholar back to India, if his progress and conduct be not satisfactory.

11. Returned scholars.—No scholar will be bound on his return to India by any engagement to serve Government or a private firm, and the choice of his career will be in the first instance determined, on his return from Europe, by his own inclination. Should any occasion arise, Government will be glad to turn his ability and increased knowledge to account, as teacher in an Industrial School or in other capacities connected with the improvement of local industries.

12. Applications for one or more of such scholarships for the development of the mining industry in the first instance, should be made direct to the Director of Public Instruction. Full particulars should be furnished as to the past educational experience, training and future requirements of each applicant for a scholarship. Applicants should also indicate, if possible, what they wish to work at in their future careers on return to India. The scholarships will be awarded by the Government of India on the recommendation of the Local Government

13. Written applications from candidates for the scholarships mentioned in Rule 12 for the year 1904 will be received at the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, up to the 1st March 1904.

THE MONSOON OF 1903.

THE following report is published for general information.

A. EARLE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 6th January 1904.

METEOROLOGICAL SUMMARY FOR THE MONSOON PERIOD OF 1903.

THE following remarks are intended to form the usual brief introduction to the rainfall tables, which give full information regarding the rainfall measured during the south-west monsoon months in all parts of the Province. Only the more important features of the general atmospheric conditions are discussed, and these only when they show a tendency favourable or unfavourable to rainfall.

Throughout the pre-monsoon months, that is up to the end of May, rainfall was continuously in defect in the north of the Province. This was more especially the case in Bihar, where the heaviest fall was 62 per cent. of the normal in February. In the other four months the fall varied between 31 per cent. in January and 44 per cent. in April. In North Bengal there was more variation, the lightest fall being 9 per cent. of the normal in April, and the heaviest, 96 per cent., in March.

The scanty rainfall in the north of the Province during these pre-monsoon months was probably connected with a peculiarity in the direction of motion of the shallow depressions to which disturbed weather in the early part of the year is due. These depressions usually cross the Province from the west and follow a course almost due east. The tendency in January and February of the present year was for these depressions to recurve southward when approaching the south-western districts, with the result that little or no rain fell in the northern districts, and exceptionally heavy falls for the season occurred in the south-western districts. Owing to this recurving the depressions moved southward or south-westward and the rainfall extended over the Peninsula instead of towards Burma.

One well-marked case of the southward movement occurred in the middle of February, but the antecedent conditions were unusually involved, as one disturbance approached from Central India shortly before another disturbance entered the Province from Assam. These appeared to unite and move southward. The complicated atmospheric conditions then prevailing are shown by the rainfall commencing in East Bengal extending to North Bengal and Bihar and afterwards to Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

The abnormal conditions between the 10th and 18th of February may be roughly accounted for by the advance from Central Asia of a depression which, after crossing the Himalayan range, became better defined over Central India. It may have, at first, recurved eastward from Central India towards the Bay, but it ultimately passed away southward over Southern India. The heavier rainfall in the west of the Province occurred during the period in which the recurving appeared to take place.

To whatever cause the rainfall was due, the south-western districts received, relatively much heavier rain than the northern districts or than falls in a normal year.

Weather was more unsettled than usual in March, and rainfall was not unfrequent; but the falls were usually light, and the total fall for the month was deficient in the western districts. Thunderstorms were frequent and as usual occurred during the eastward passage of the shallow depressions characteristic of the hot season. The only divisions which received excess rainfall were South-West and East Bengal.

In April rainfall was much in defect, except in Chota Nagpur. The deficiency was unusually large in East and North Bengal.

Throughout April conditions were abnormal. Both pressure and temperature differed largely from the normal. At the beginning of the month high pressure developed over the Province, as compared with the Bay and with Burma, with the result that northerly or north-westerly winds prevailed inland. Exceptionally low temperature for the season slowly became general and continued until about the 13th.

During that period showers were of daily occurrence in Chota Nagpur and the adjacent parts of South-West Bengal, viz., the Burdwan, Birbhum and Bankura districts. On the 8th the showers became more general in the central districts, and they entirely ceased on the 11th.

Changes were in progress between the 9th and 13th, and gradually produced a complete reversal of the conditions prevailing in the early part of April. Rainfall almost entirely ceased, and temperature not only became excessive, but one of the most prolonged and severe spells of hot weather on record developed during the latter half of April and continued for some time in May.

The total range of temperature, that is from the lowest minimum to the highest maximum, was 50° over a great part of the Province, and in Bihar was very nearly 60°.

The excessive heat continued during May and was most marked during the first and third weeks. Rainfall was much lighter than usual over the whole Province, except in Chota Nagpur, which received about the usual amount. Local disturbances were numerous, but the rainfall accompanying them was usually light, except between the 25th and 28th, when, probably owing to a cyclonic disturbance in the west of India, rainfall was heavier in Bengal than at any other time during May. The total fall in North Bengal was 6·6 inches, in East Bengal 5·8, the normal in both divisions being about 10 inches. Defect in the western and central districts, except in Chota Nagpur, varied from 1·4 to 2 inches

The hot weather months had therefore been exceptionally dry months, and over the Bay weather had been unusually settled. No cyclonic disturbance of any kind had developed in or approached the north of the Bay. These conditions continued during the first half of June, and weather continued settled throughout that month over the Bay.

Local storms with scattered rainfall were an important feature of the weather in June, with the exception of the first two weeks in Bihar, when Patna, Gaya, Shahabad and Saran were almost entirely rainless. Two periods of heavy general rainfall occurred in the latter half of the month. In the first case the rainfall began in the east about the 16th and continued for several days in Bengal Proper. The cause of the rainfall is not apparent, but there was probably a depression developing over Bengal, as pressure fell during these days from being more than ·1 inch above to about ·16 inch below the normal. The low pressure area was slowly displaced southwards over the north of the Bay, where there was a very slight depression on the 23rd, but a brisk rise of pressure was general in the depression area on the 24th, and thereafter the distribution was normal.

The second burst of heavy rain was caused by a shallow depression, which appeared over South-West Bengal on the 25th, with a regular system of cyclonic winds. This depression, without intensifying, moved first in a north-westerly direction towards Chota Nagpur, then recurved, and passing over the west of Bihar on the 27th broke up on reaching the Himalayas. During its northerly advance moderate rain fell in the western districts. The rainfall became more heavy after the recurving commenced, and during the two following days very heavy rain fell in North Bengal.

Owing to the heavy rain which fell during these two periods of disturbance and the showers which, though light, were fairly frequent at other times, the rainfall in June was fairly normal and well distributed. Chota Nagpur alone received much less than the normal. In Bihar, Orissa and South-West Bengal the fall was 80 per cent. of the normal, and in East and North Bengal there was excess of more than 10 per cent.

During the first week of July there was similar weather to what has been described for June. Ordinary monsoon conditions prevailed in the east of the Province and Assam, and in the western districts local storms were fairly numerous with scattered rainfall.

An important change began about the 8th. It was shown by a fall of pressure which appeared first in the north-east of the Province, and was general over Bengal on the 9th. On the latter date there was a more than usually steep pressure gradient over Bengal with strong southerly winds, and on the 10th the fall of pressure was followed by a brisk rise which, like the previous fall, appeared to move in a direction roughly from north-east to south-west.

On the 12th a depression developed over the north of the Bay. This depression was the first of a series of four which formed in the north-west angle at intervals of five days and then moved westward passing over Orissa.

While these storms were developing in the north of the Bay, northerly winds were common in Bengal, and with northerly winds during the monsoon season rainfall is either scattered or nil. Consequently over a great part of the Province in July and especially in Bihar and the northern parts of Chota Nagpur rainfall was much below the normal. Orissa, over which the depressions passed, received 23 per cent. excess rainfall, and in North Bengal defect was only 24 per cent. But in Chota Nagpur and East Bengal defect was 40 per cent., in South-West Bengal 50 per cent., and in Bihar the fall was only 32 per cent. of the normal. The average fall in Bihar was 4 inches, the normal being 13. Monghyr received only 20 per cent., Patna, Gaya, Shahabad and Saran not more than 25 per cent., and only three districts in Bihar, viz., Champaran, Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas, received more than 40 per cent. The lowest fall in Chota Nagpur was 38 per cent. of the normal in Palamau.

While the fourth of the series of small depressions referred to above was affecting weather in Bengal, a change began. The depression moved in a more northerly direction than the preceding ones had done. It followed the same westerly direction as far as Central India, then recurving it re-entered Bengal from the west about the 4th of August. General rain began on the 5th in Bihar and continued during the four succeeding days. Well marked monsoon conditions became established over the Province, and rainfall was heavy in places.

The most noteworthy occurrence subsequent to the important change referred to was the very heavy rainfall in the northern districts and the lower Himalayan slopes on the 12th and 13th, general along the hills, but most marked in North Bengal and the west of Bihar.

Generally in August there was a small and somewhat irregular excess in the eastern districts, and a small defect in the west. In isolated tracts defect was as much as 5 inches, the more important of these areas being in the Midnapore, Singhbhum and Lohardaga districts. Over an irregular and comparatively narrow belt of country, extending from the mouth of the Hooghly north-westward as far as Shahabad, the deficiency averaged 5 inches.

During September, weather was, with but little interruption, of the ordinary south-west monsoon type, that is, rainfall was of almost daily occurrence over a great part of the Province. But the showers were usually light, and the rainfall of the month as a whole was below the average over the northern districts.

Two shallow depressions developed over Lower Bengal—one about the middle of the month and the other towards the end. These caused heavy rainfall, which extended to the western districts as the depressions moved westward. It was chiefly owing to the heavy falls which accompanied these two disturbances that the rainfall for September in the southern districts was above the normal.

That excess was 10 to 20 per cent. of the normal in Lower Bengal and Orissa. In Chota Nagpur there was defect of 6 per cent., in North Bengal of 19 per cent., and in Bihar of 29 per cent.

Towards the end of September, at a time when the weather was exceptionally settled for the season over the Bay and only scattered showers were falling in Bengal, weather became unsettled in the north of the Province.

The disturbance was shown by falling pressure, a strong indraught towards the Himalayan range, and the commencement of heavy rainfall at northern stations. From the Darjeeling and Jalpaiguri districts heavy falls were reported on the 25th, and on the following days the disturbance extended southward and westward over Bengal. Numerous thunderstorms occurred as the disturbance progressed, and general rain, heavy in places, fell over the whole Province accompanied by a general fall of temperature.

The importance of this disturbance cannot be over-rated. It was similar in character to that which preceded the formation of the series of depressions at the head of the Bay in July, and, as on that occasion, it was followed by a series of depressions at the head of the Bay. The first of these depressions caused the heavy rainfall in Lower Bengal before the end of September. The second formed over the north of the Bay or entered that area from Burma, and was followed by rainfall not only in Bengal but over a large part of Northern India in October.

The average rainfall in Orissa during October, the greater part of which fell during the first ten days of the month, was 12 inches, in Chota Nagpur nearly 9 inches, and in Bihar 5·7 inches. In Bengal Proper the fall was uniform and between 6 and 7 inches.

After the disturbance of the early part of October had disappeared, and rainfall had ceased about the 12th, weather of the transition period became general in Bengal and over the north of the Bay. Only a few unimportant showers fell in Bengal, until near the end of the month when a cyclonic storm which had developed in the extreme south of the Bay turned northwards and passed over Bengal. It was a storm of some severity while off the Madras coast, but as it passed inland before recurving it had to a great extent broken up over the eastern ghats before it approached Bengal. It caused a heavy burst of rainfall in Orissa and general rain inland, except in some of the western districts, where only a few showers fell.

The general character of the monsoon rainfall was as follows:—During June heavy rainfall was confined to the eastern districts, and only showers fell in the west of the Province: in July Orissa alone received excess rainfall, while in all other divisions there was a large deficiency, greatest in Bihar and Lower Bengal. From August onwards rainfall was more heavy and general. In August the northern districts received excess rainfall; in September Lower Bengal showed excess, and there was a not very large defect in the north, and in October the falls were in moderate to large excess over the whole Province.

At the end of October the rainfall for the preceding ten months was in slight excess in Orissa, between 5 and 10 per cent. in defect in Bengal Proper, 12 per cent. in defect in Chota Nagpur, and 25 per cent. in defect in Bihar.

For the monsoon season only, that is from May to October, as the following tables show, Orissa received 7 per cent. excess. In North and East Bengal there was a small defect, in South-West Bengal 10 per cent. defect, in Chota Nagpur 14 per cent. defect, and in Bihar 24 per cent. defect:—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the New Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

STATE TECHNICAL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR NATIVES OF INDIA.

1. WITH a view to provide for natives of India the higher technical education which may qualify them to assist in promoting the improvement of existing native industries, and the development of new industries wherever this may be possible, the Government of India are ready, as an experimental measure, to give a small number of Technical scholarships, if promising candidates, well-qualified in some particular branch of industry, present themselves. The outlines of the scheme are sketched out below :—

2. Value of the scholarships.—The value of the scholarships has been fixed at £150 a year, in addition to fees payable to the institutions where the scholars will study, and travelling expenses; but Government will consider proposals for increasing it in special cases.

3. Places and periods of tenure.—Each scholarship is tenable for an average period of two years, which may be increased or reduced in special cases.

4. The scholarships may be held in Great Britain, on the Continent of Europe, or in America, and are payable from the date of the scholar's arrival in the country which he may select for study.

5. Subjects of study.—Law, Medicine, Forestry, Veterinary Science, Agriculture and Engineering have been excluded from the scope of the present proposal. The scholarships are in the first instance proposed to be used for the encouragement of the mining industry in Bengal, but any other branch of industry can similarly be helped and fostered. Industries in which native capital and enterprise are engaged, or likely to be engaged, and in which the trained scholar might, on return to his country, find scope for his skill and ability, will be particularly appropriate for selection.

6. Conditions of award.— The scholarships are tenable by persons who are natives of India within the meaning of section 6 of the Statute, 33 Vic., Cap. 3. A competent knowledge of English, or the language of any other country in which the candidate proposes to work and study, is essential to enable him to take full advantage of the course of study.

7. In the matter of selection of scholars, Government will be guided by considerations of the candidate's capacity, intelligence, particular interest in and connection with the industry selected, and the assurance that he will continue to devote himself to the subject on his return to India. These being matters which cannot be decided by the holding of degrees obtained, by examination, or by competition, no special examination is considered necessary and none will be held. But a scholar before nominati n should have received the best technical education available in the Province, in the particular industry which he has to study, and no candidate will be considered qualified unless he has displayed an aptitude for technical study.

8. No age limit has been fixed. But it may be fixed by Government in certain cases.

9. The candidates for scholarships will be called upon to submit certificates attesting (a) their moral character, (b) knowledge of the language of the country in which they elect to study, and (c) physical capacity, from recognized persons who may be considered fit to certify to these facts.

10. The scholars in England or elsewhere, as the case may be, will be under the control and supervision of the Secretary of State. The conditions under which they will hold the scholarships will be similar to those laid down for Government of India scholarships, and power will be retained to cancel a scholarship and to send the scholar back to India, if his progress and conduct be not satisfactory.

11. Returned scholars.—No scholar will be bound on his return to India by any engagement to serve Government or a private firm, and the choice of his career will be in the first instance determined, on his return from Europe, by his own inclination. Should any occasion arise, Government will be glad to turn his ability and increased knowledge to account, as teacher in an Industrial School or in other capacities connected with the improvement of local industries.

12. Applications for one or more of such scholarships for the development of the mining industry in the first instance, should be made direct to the Director of Public Instruction. Full particulars should be furnished as to the past educational experience, training and future requirements of each applicant for a scholarship. Applicants should also indicate, if possible, what they wish to work at in their future careers on return to India. The scholarships will be awarded by the Government of India on the recommendation of the Local Government.

13. Written applications from candidates for the scholarships mentioned in Rule 12 for the year 1904 will be received at the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, up to the 1st March 1904.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM FOR THE MONTH OF DECEMBER 1903.

THROUGHOUT the month weather in Bengal was fine without interruption; the sky was continuously cloudless, and temperature generally below the normal, the day and night being both on an average for the month cooler than usual.

The only rainfall occurred in Orissa, and that was in the early days of the month, when a slight disturbance extended northwards from Madras along the west coast. The showers were light and scattered and in no case exceeded a third of an inch.

While weather was fine and settled in the north of the Bay, it was otherwise in the south, where frequent disturbances occurred. Three, at least, at intervals of about ten days, passed over the south of the Bay and affected weather on the Madras Coast; and on one occasion, about the 3rd or 4th, strong winds and a very rough sea developed with only small changes of the barometer. A slight depression crossed the Madras Coast near Negapatam shortly after the middle of the month. There was some increase of wind force, and moderately heavy rainfall in the neighbourhood of Negapatam; but the disturbance was of brief duration and of only local importance.

The third disturbance occurred towards the close of the month, and caused unusually heavy rainfall at Madras. The depression moving apparently from the south-east appeared, with but little warning, on the north Ceylon and south Madras coasts on the 29th. Defect near the centre was about ·1 inch, so the depression as measured by the barometric fall was slight and not likely to have much influence on the weather in Madras. The depression, however, instead of moving westward as depressions at that time of the year usually do, recurved northwards, and passing over the eastern Madras districts on the 30th filled up over the Bay to the east of Nellore on the 31st. While the recurving was taking place, that is during part of the 30th and 31st, heavy rain fell, at the first along the coast between Negapatam and Madras, and afterwards near Madras only. After the depression had disappeared cloud and rainfall extended northwards to the Circars and light cloud formed in Bengal.

The first of these three disturbances and the last were, though in different respects, exceptional in character. The former was accompanied by the sudden development of a severe gale over the south of the Bay. Seeing this sudden change was not a result of any rapid fall of pressure, it appears reasonable to infer that the area of lowest pressure was a considerable distance to the south, or that the gale was due in part to the rapid rise of pressure which for a day or two previous had been moving southward from Bengal. The fall of pressure in the extreme south on the 4th and the brisk rise on the 3rd contributed jointly to the steep pressure gradient which was over the south and centre of the Bay at the same time as the strong winds. The depression passed westward into the Arabian Sea, and weather rapidly improved. The rainfall which accompanied the storm in Madras was not more than moderate.

The latter of the two disturbances caused only moderate winds; it moved northwards instead of westward, and its chief feature was the heavy rainfall on the Madras coast on the 30th and 31st.

Strong winds were reported from the east of the Bay when the disturbed weather was being experienced in the south-west, so that north-east monsoon conditions probably at those times prevailed over the whole of the south of the Bay. Except for the strong winds, however, weather was not disturbed on the Burma Coast, and it continued fine and settled in the north of the Bay and in Bengal throughout the month.

Pressure.—Oscillations were generally small in Bengal and the north of the Bay, and a conspicuous feature of the disturbances in the south of the Bay was the shallow character of the depressions and the small changes of pressure which preceded their approach. Pressure was therefore steady and the variation from the normal for the month is not large. Over the Bay there was defect of ·02 inch. In Bengal also there was defect, but more irregular and in some cases larger than at coast stations. At the majority of inland stations defect was less than ·02 inch.

Temperature—Was below the normal in the southern districts during the greater part of the month, and at times there was a rather large defect, notably about the middle of the month. In the north of the Province and more especially in the north-east, temperature was not so uniformly low, but excess was small, and as there were times, as at the beginning of the month, when defect was large, the mean for the whole month is everywhere below the normal. Defect in maximum temperature is about 1°, while in minimum temperatures it ranges up to 2° in the western districts. Mean defect is nearly 2° in Orissa, 1°·4 in Chota Nagpur, 1°·1 in South-West Bengal, 1° in Bihar, and half a degree in North and East Bengal and Orissa.

Rainfall—Was nil except in Orissa, where a few light scattered showers fell on the 1st and 2nd.

The following table gives the average rainfall for each Division, month by month, throughout the year, expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for each month :—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye-observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

A.—Under the Agriculturists' Loans Act.

I.—In rules 6 and 7, for the words "from the date of the loan" the words "from the date of the actual advance of the loan, or when the loan is advanced in instalments from the date of the advance of the last instalment actually paid," shall be substituted.

II.—After rule 7, the following rule shall be added, namely:—

"7A. In the case of a loan granted by instalments, if the applicant, after taking one or more instalments, fails to take any other instalment within six weeks from the date on which he is entitled to it, the Collector may declare the loan closed. The total of the instalments taken by the applicant shall then constitute the loan, which shall be treated as having been fully paid on the date on which the last instalment was actually taken; and a fresh arrangement for repayment shall be made by the Collector, consistent with the two preceding rules, in modification of the order in Form B granted to the applicant when the loan was sanctioned."

Illustration.

Interest shall be levied for the period intervening between the date of the completion of the loan (in cases in which loans are granted in one payment), or between the dates of the payment of the instalments (in cases in which loans are granted in instalments), and the date from which the first instalment of interest, consolidated with the first instalment of the principal, becomes payable. The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable."

The interest leviable in such cases shall be demanded in a lump sum six months before the date on which the first consolidated instalment of principal and interest is made payable."

C.—Under both the Land Improvement and Agriculturists' Loans Acts.

FINAL FORECAST ON THE SUGARCANE CROP OF BENGAL, 1903.

THE following note is published for general information.

A. EARLE,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 25th January 1904.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast on the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1903.

Character of the Season.—From the beginning of October to the end of the cane-planting season drought prevailed throughout the Province except in the Orissa and Chittagong Divisions and in parts of the Burdwan, Presidency and Dacca Divisions, where sufficient rain fell in January, February and March for planting canes. In April and May also rainfall was in defect everywhere except in Chota Nagpur, and the deficiency continued through June all over the Province save in North Bengal, in the North Gangetic districts of Bihar, in some parts of the Presidency Division and in Dacca, Mymensingh, Tippera and Noakhali. During the cane-growing season, that is, from June to November, the conditions were particularly favourable for this crop, and the canes that had been planted gave much better results than had been anticipated at first. In December there was practically no rain, which is a condition favourable for ripening and harvesting.

2. The area planted was affected by the unfavourable conditions that prevailed at the early part of the season, the estimated area this year being 645,400 acres against 673,500 acres planted in 1902 and against 690,100 acres, the normal area under sugarcane. The normal area has been raised in this report from 689,100 acres to 690,100 acres owing to a revision made by the Collector of Bankura.

3. Character of the Crop.—As will appear from Appendix I, the crop in 16 districts, viz., in Birbhum, Bankura, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Rangpur, Pabna, Dacca, Mymensingh, Faridpur, Patna, Gaya, Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack, Balasore, Hazaribagh and Singhbhum, is estimated at or above the normal. In nine districts, viz., in Hooghly, 24-Parganas, Tippera, Shahabad, Champaran, Bhagalpur, Purnea, Malda and Manbhum, the crop is estimated at between 90 and 99 per cent. In the remaining districts the estimate is from 60 to 89 per cent. Since the publication of the preliminary forecast in August, prospects improved in 10 districts, remained stationary in 29 and deteriorated in 6. According to the present estimate of the District Officers, the outturn of the crop for the whole Province comes to 92 per cent., which I had anticipated in the preliminary forecast. Considering the favourable weather which prevailed at the end of the season, I am inclined now to raise the estimate by another 2 per cent., i.e., to a 15-anna crop.

4. Gross outturn.—Accepting the provincial outturn to be 94 per cent. of the normal, the probable gross outturn of cane gur or raw sugar at 22 cwts. per acre, comes to 13,346,900 cwts., as compared with 13,631,600 cwts. produced last year.

5. Other sources of sugar.—The information available on this subject is still very incomplete. The total amount of raw sugar or gur produced in these Provinces from date-palm is estimated by the District Officers at 2,292,317 cwts, and that from palmyra-palm and other sources at 7,109 cwts.

Offg. Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye-observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the New Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

⌓, dew.

A. EARLE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 95—36-6, dated Calcutta, the 28th January 1904.

NOTIFICATION—By the Govt. of India, Dept. of Revenue and Agriculture.

IN exercise of the power conferred by section 80 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1883 (XXI of 1883), the Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct that the following amendments be made in Schedule A of the Rules as published with the Notification of the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture, No. 95E., dated the 18th March 1886, and subsequently amended, namely:—

1. In the rule regarding "life-boats," the words "a life-jacket or belt for each oarsman, and one for the cockswain, shall also be provided," shall be omitted.

2. For the rules regarding "life-jackets" and "life-buoys" the following shall be substituted:—

Life-belts.

"Number.—Approved life-belts, or other similar approved articles of equal buoyancy suitable for being worn on the person shall be carried. There shall be at least one such apparatus for each person on board the ship."

"Materials.—An approved life-belt means a belt which does not require to be inflated before use, and which is capable of floating in fresh water for 24 hours with 15lbs. of iron suspended from it. Life-belts should be cut out 2 inches under the arm-pits, and fitted so as to remain securely in position when put on, and the emigrants should be instructed how to wear them. When any material other than solid cork is used, it must have been specially approved by Government."

"Position of life-belts.—All life-belts, or other approved articles as aforesaid, shall be placed to the satisfaction of the Marine Surveyor so as to be at all times readily accessible to the persons on board for whom they are intended. They shall preferably be carried on battens fitted between the deck beams overhead, the number in each separate compartment being equivalent to the number of persons to be accommodated in that compartment. In no case shall the life-belts be carried in the hold or below the deck on which the emigrants are accommodated, nor shall they be tied together in bundles."

Life-buoys.

"Number.—At least one approved life-buoy shall be carried for every boat placed under davits, but not less than six in all. Two of these shall be placed on the opposite sides of the vessel, and shall each be fitted with a life-line 15 fathoms long, a float signal, and a night signal."

"Materials.—No life-buoy shall be stuffed with rushes or with cork or other shavings, granulated cork, or any loose material. All cork life-buoys shall be constructed of solid cork and fitted with suitable lines, becketted and securely seized to the life-buoys, and no life-buoy shall be approved that will not float for 24 hours in fresh water with 32lbs. of iron suspended from it. If life-buoys are not made of solid cork, the pattern and material must have been specially approved by Government. No contrivance shall be approved as a life-buoy that requires inflation before use."

"Fastening.—Life-buoys shall be secured in place by a toggle and becket, or by other similar method allowing of their rapid release. They shall not be lashed or seized to the rail or any other part of the vessel; but shall be kept on both sides of the upper decks, in convenient places so as to be ready for use at a moment's notice in case of emergency."

"Examination.—In all cases the Marine Surveyor shall carefully examine the life-belts and life-buoys, and shall see that they meet requirements in every respect in regard to their construction, buoyancy, fittings, and material. He shall also satisfy himself that the position and manner in which they are carried are the best that can be secured."

"Penalties.—The Marine Surveyor shall call the attention of owners and masters to the penalties imposed under section 430 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, for omitting to provide the requisite life-saving appliances, or to keep them at all times in an efficient state and in constant readiness."

3. To the rules relating to "Signals," the following shall be added under the heading "Distress":—

"Two storm or danger signals (Holmes' or other similar make), and six smaller lights of the same description with means for attaching such signals or lights to the life-buoys."

In supersession of all previous orders on the subject, the following rules made by the Lieutenant-Governor under the power vested in him by section 4 of Act III (B.C.) of 1879 are hereby published for general information:—

RULES under Section 4, Act III (B.C.) of 1879, entitled an Act to provide for the Periodical Inspection of Steam-boilers and Prime-movers attached thereto in the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah, and since extended to all places in the districts of Hooghly, Howrah, and the 24-Parganas within a radius of 30 miles from Calcutta, to the Subdivisions of Raniganj, Giridih, and Gobindpur, to the districts of the Sonthal Parganas and Patna, to the Municipalities of Burdwan and Bhagalpur, and to the Towns of Dacca and Narayanganj.

I.—A Boiler Commission shall be appointed, to consist of the Commissioner of Police, or the Deputy Commissioner of Police, or both, and not less than three other Commissioners to be appointed by Government from time to time. One of the Commissioners shall be appointed President, and the Secretary shall be Vice-President and ex-officio a member of the Commission.

Ia.—The Commission shall meet periodically (at least once a month) for the transaction of business.

II.—The office of the Commissioners for the Inspection of Boilers shall be attached to the office of the Commissioner of Police.

III.—It shall be the duty of the Commissioners at periodical meetings—

(1) To examine the diaries of the Inspectors and pass such orders thereon as may seem necessary.

(2) To revoke or suspend any certificates under section 8

(3) To hear any appeals preferred by owners of boilers under section 9.

(4) To keep a record of their proceedings in such form as may seem advisable, and submit a copy of the same to the Chief Secretary to Government.

(5) To submit an annual budget to Government, showing the estimates, receipts, and disbursements of the Commission for the ensuing year.

(6) To submit an annual report* reviewing the work done by the Boiler establishment during the financial year.

(7) To prescribe the registers and accounts which are to be kept up by the Secretary and office.

(8) To cause a statement of demands, collections, and outstandings to be prepared by the Secretary, and to scrutinise the same

(9) To check the statement of demands, comparing the arrear demand with the statement of outstandings for the previous month and the current demand with a statement of work done, to be prepared by the Secretary from the diaries of the Inspectors.

(10) To compare the statement of collections with the cash-book, and the cash-book with the bank-book.

(11) To pass such orders as they may think fit for realising or otherwise disposing of the outstandings.

IV.—The Commissioners shall from time to time prepare and submit, for the sanction of Government, a schedule of the establishment and salaries they consider necessary for the purpose of the Act.

V.—After sanction of such schedule, the Commissioners shall have the power to appoint the Inspectors, clerks, &c., and they shall also have power to suspend or remove such officers.

V(a).—The Commissioners, other than the Vice-President and Secretary, shall receive a fee of Rs. 32 each for attending each meeting of the Commission, the charge being debited to the "Steam-boiler Inspection Fund."

VI.—The Vice-President and Secretary shall be the head of the branch of the office of the Commissioner of Police which is set apart for the work of the Boiler Commission, and shall be responsible to the Commissioner of Police, or, if this officer is not a member of the Commission, to the Deputy Commissioner of Police for the good order and management of the office. He shall see that all notices are duly served, and that all fees are duly brought to account and paid into the Bank. He shall himself verify the balance at credit shown in the accounts of the Commissioners' office with the balance in the Bank. He shall refer all matters of importance for the orders of the President.

VII.—When a certificate is required for a boiler and prime-mover, application should be made to the Vice-President and Secretary at the office of the Boiler Commission by the owner or agent in Form No. 1 appended hereto, giving at least 14 days' notice of the date on which the boiler will be ready for inspection. The Vice-President and Secretary on receipt of an application will arrange for the inspection to take place on the date notified, if possible; but should that date not prove suitablehe will as soon as possible appoint another, and inform the owner or agent of it.

VIII.—Notices under section 6, requiring owners or persons in charge of boilers to make alterations or additions, shall only be given by the Inspectors in writing, and when any such notice is given, the recommendation shall also be recorded in the diary. When an appeal is heard by the Commission, notice shall be given to the appellant, and any representation that may be made by him will be heard in the presence of the Inspector. The Inspector will also be heard, and local inspection made, if necessary. The decision of the Commission will be given in writing, and such decision shall be final

IX.—When an inspection under the Act is completed, the Inspector making it shall prepare a declaration in the Form No. 2 appended hereto, in column 8 of which the limit of the working pressure, in pounds per square inch, shall be clearly noted. The declaration shall then be sent to the owner or agent with a statement, in Form No. 3 appended hereto, of the fees and expenses due on account of the inspection, which must be paid before a certificate can be granted for the boiler and prime-mover concerned.

* Not later than the 15th May.

X.—Upon receipt of the declaration in the office of the Commissioner of Police, a certificate shall be prepared in the form prescribed by the Act (Form No. 4 appended hereto). Such certificate shall be signed by the Inspector and the Vice-President, and shall be delivered to the owner, manager, or agent of the steam-boiler inspected on his paying the fees.

XI.—For every certificate of inspection granted under the Act, the owner, manager, or agent of the steam-boiler inspected shall pay to the Commissioner of Police, or, when he is not a member of the Commission, to the Deputy Commissioner of Police, a fee calculated on the horse-power of the steam-boiler according to the rates laid down in rule XVI, and such additional fee in respect of the expense (if any) of the journey of the Inspector to the place where the boiler is situated, as is prescribed in rule XVII.

XII.—A certificate in Form No. 4 granted under this Act shall not be in force—

(1) after the expiration of one year from the date of the inspection on which the certificate was granted, or

(2) after the expiration of the period, if less than one year, for which the boiler and machinery have been stated in the certificate to be sufficient, or

(3) after notice has been given by the Commissioners to the owner, manager, or agent of the steam-boiler to which the certificate relates that they have cancelled or suspended it.

XIII.—There shall be two kinds of inspection of boilers—

(a) When the certificate granted under this Act is about to expire, or when it has been revoked or suspended under section 8 of the Act and the owner desires that it shall be renewed, a thorough examination, inside and outside, shall be made by one of the Inspectors in person, for which purpose the boilers must be empty, cool, and clean, and flues swept; and, if required by the Inspector, any parts or settings must be removed for examination of the boiler in every part.

(b) An ordinary inspection may be made by an Inspector at any time for the purpose of ascertaining whether a certificate should be revoked or suspended under section 8 of the Act.

XIV.—The Vice-President and Secretary shall (unless the owner consents to have the boiler ready for inspection on an earlier date approved by the Vice-President and Secretary) give one week's notice of every intended examination under rule 13 (a), and warn the owner that if the boiler is not empty, cool, clean, and ready for inspection on the date named, there may be delay in issuing or renewing a certificate, which might thus render the owner or person in charge of the boiler liable to a fine of Rs. 500 under section 11 of the Act.

(a) Provided that the inspection of boilers in the Raniganj, Giridih, and Gobindpur subdivisions, in the districts of the Sonthal Parganas and Patna, or in the Municipalities of Burdwan and Bhagalpur shall be made during the months of November to May inclusive, and in the towns of Dacca and Narayanganj during the months of June and July; and the Vice-President and Secretary shall give 14 days' notice of the dates of such inspections.

(b) If any boiler needs inspection at other times to that specified in sub-clause (a), either as being a new boiler requiring a certificate, or as being a boiler which the owner from any other reason wishes to have inspected, it may, on the application of the owner, manager, or agent, be so inspected.

XV.—The Vice-President and Secretary shall submit to the Commissioners at each meeting, the Inspectors' reports on the boilers inspected in the form of a diary, which shall be recorded in the office.

XVI.—Fees for the inspection of boilers and delivery of certificates shall be charged according to the following scale:—

								Rs.
Boilers up to 10 H.-P ...							...	12
„ above 10 „			and up to 20 H.-P.					15
„ „ 20 „			„ 40 „					18
„ „ 40 „			„ 60 „					21
„ „ 60 „			„ 80 „					25
„ „ 80 „			„ 100 „					30
„ „ 100 „			and upwards				...	35

But if any boiler is certified for a period of less than one year, the fee payable may be reduced to one-twelfth of the above amount for each month or part of a month in the said period, provided that the minimum fee shall in no case be less than one-fourth of that shown in the scale.

An additional fee of Rs. 50 to that of the above will be charged for the inspection of a boiler on a Sunday.

Formula for calculating horse-power.

For tubular and internally fired boilers, area of grate multiplied by 2 = H.-P.

For egg-ended and externally fired boilers, area of grate multiplied by $1\frac{1}{2}$ = H.-P.

XVII.—In addition to the above fees, an Inspector's travelling expenses shall be realised from such owners of boilers in the extended jurisdictions as may apply for inspection of their boilers out of season, as well as from owners whose boilers are not ready for inspection on the first visit made on their application, whether in Calcutta and its Suburbs and in Howrah or in the added areas, for every additional visit paid by the Inspector for the completion of inspection.

XVIII.—Registers shall be kept in the Boiler Commission Office of all boilers inspected, in which full particulars of the boilers shall be entered in the manner prescribed by the Commissioners, and a number shall be allotted to each boiler corresponding to the number of entry regarding it in the register.

The registered number of a boiler is to be conspicuously cut into the front plate by block type three-eighths of an inch large, with a Crown mark, and the initial letter of the register over the figures for Calcutta, Raniganj or other register, as the case may be; the marks being enclosed by a rectangular figure, $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches in length by $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches in breadth, made with a chisel; and the Inspectors are to state in their declarations that this has been done.

XIX.—The Commissioners shall from time to time, as may seem necessary, make regulations as to the inspection of steam-boilers and the fittings to be required by Inspectors for steam-boilers under the provisions of section 6 of Act III of 1879.

Offg. Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

MISC. REV. DEPT.—EXCISE BRANCH, CALCUTTA, The 27th January 1904.

No. 859B.

NOTIFICATION.

MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

MISCELLANEOUS BRANCH.

THE HON'BLE MR. C. E. BUCKLAND, C.I.E.

Dated Calcutta, the 28th January 1904.

IN supersession of the rules published in the Board's Notification No. 1196B., dated the 11th June 1898, and with reference to clause 11 of the rules published in Notification by the Government of Bengal No. 1225 S.R., dated the 21st February 1898, the following revised rules are laid down to regulate the export of opium by sea from Calcutta: —

1. Opium may be exported by sea from the port of Calcutta if it has been purchased from the Government at a public sale held by the Board of Revenue, and is covered by a pass or certificate granted by the Board. A certificate is a document authorising the Collector of Customs to allow the shipment of the opium specified in it. The currency of a certificate is four days, exclusive of its date of issue, and exclusive of Sundays and Custom House holidays. No pass or certificate for the export of opium will be issued on the same day on which the opium has been sold.

2. Shipping bills for exportation of opium must be printed in red ink and presented at the Custom House in duplicate, accompanied by a certificate in such form as the Board may direct. The duplicate on which the pass is granted will be returned to the shipper to obtain delivery from the opium godowns, the original being forwarded to the gate officer on the wharf to expedite the passing of the opium out of the Custom House.

3. If any opium covered by a certificate is not removed from the Presidency Godowns within a period of four days from the date of the issue of the certificate, the holder of the certificate must, within 24 hours next after the expiry of the said period, apply to the Board of Revenue for a fresh certificate.

4. If any opium has been removed from the Presidency Godowns within the said period of four days, and has been passed out by the Customs authorities for export, but has not been shipped within the said period by reason of the opium being shut out from the ship in which it was intended to be shipped, or for any other reason, the shipper must, without delay, apply to the Board for a fresh certificate, and must, pending the issue of such certificate, either (a) return the opium to the Presidency Godowns, with the permission of the Collector of Customs, or (b) keep it, with the permission of the said Collector, under sealed hatches at a mooring ghat to be fixed by the Superintendent of the Calcutta Customs Preventive Service.

5. A charge of ten rupees shall be made for the services of the Customs Officer deputed to supervise the returning of opium to the Presidency Godowns, or the sealing of hatches, in pursuance of rule 4 of these rules.

6. (a) On ordinary working days, no treasury receipt in payment of opium, and no pass, will be accepted by the Board after 3-30 P.M., and no certificate will be granted after 4 P.M.

(b) On Saturdays, no receipt or pass will be accepted after 1-30 P.M., and no certificate granted after 2 P.M.

(c) A certificate is not transferable, and no one but the person named on the face of it by the Board will be entitled to export opium on it.

7. The certificates granted by the Board are to be returned to the Board, within thirty days, duly cancelled.

8. A fee of five rupees will be charged to a shipper on presentation of shipping bills after 4 P.M. on the day of clearance of the China steamer.

9. Opium intended for export, which is not cleared from the godowns before 4-30 P.M., shall be conveyed to the steamer or ship from the ghat opposite the opium godowns in covered cargo-boats with properly secured hatches.

10. As soon as the Intendant is aware that clearances will be made after 4-30 P.M., he shall make immediate report to the Collector of Customs, who will at once appoint one or more Preventive Officers, as may be necessary, to be in attendance at the ghat at which the cargo-boats lie. In his report the Intendant shall mention the probable number of chests which will be removed during the evening; and each day, as long as clearances are going on, he shall furnish the Collector of Customs with a similar report.

11. The Preventive Officer at the ghat shall examine all boat-notes and chests, and see the latter placed in the hold of the cargo-boat. He shall then secure and seal, with a distinctive mark, the hatches or other openings or doors of the cargo-boat by which access may be had to the hold, before allowing the boat to proceed to the steamer or ship. He shall also make an entry in the boat-note, specifying that the hatches or other openings or doors have been sealed.

12 The Preventive Officer on board the receiving steamer or ship shall carefully examine the seals affixed to the hatches or other openings or doors of a cargo-boat laden with opium, as soon as the boat arrives alongside the vessel, and shall not allow the seals to be broken in any case until he is prepared to receive the opium on board, and to superintend the removal of the chests from the hold of the cargo-boat.

13. If it appears to the Preventive Officer on board the receiving vessel that the seals placed on the hatches or other openings or doors of a cargo-boat have been broken in transit, or have been in any way tampered with, he shall immediately bring the matter to the notice of the officer in charge of the vessel, and shall examine each chest carefully. If any theft of opium is discovered, the Preventive Officer shall make an immediate report to the River Police and to the Collector of Customs, mentioning at the same time the number of the cargo-boat and the name of the owner and manjhi

14. A shipper who removes his chests of opium from the Government premises after 4-30 P.M. shall be required to pay a fee of two rupees for any number of chests up to twenty; three rupees for any number of chests above twenty and up to fifty; and five rupees for any larger number of chests.

15. The fees mentioned in rule 14 shall be realized by the Intendant before delivery of chests to the shippers, and shall be remitted daily by him to the Superintendent, Customs Preventive Service, for the remuneration of Preventive Officers, who may be employed beyond the usual working hours

16. The Presidency Opium Godowns will be kept open free of charge for the delivery of opium chests to shippers between the hours of 10-30 A M and 5 P.M. on ordinary working days, and between the hours of 8 A.M. and 7 P.M. on days (including Saturdays and gazetted holidays) preceding the sailing of steamers in which the shipment of opium has been notified. For delivery of opium chests outside these hours the Intendant shall require the payment of a fee of sixteen rupees in respect of each requisition, and a further fee of two annas in respect of each chest delivered. No application for the delivery of opium chests shall be received by the Intendant after 9 P.M.

17 The procedure described in rules 9 to 15, both inclusive, is enjoined especially in the case of opium cleared from the godowns after 4-30 P M., but it may, on application by the shipper to the Intendant, be followed in the case of opium cleared before that time.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

J. H. KERR,

Offg Secretary.

2. The amendments which we have made in the Bill are, as far as possible, printed in italics; and all amendments of any importance are explained in the following paragraphs.

3. Preamble.—We have inserted the words "by landholders" in the preamble, so as to make it quite clear at the outset that the Bill is not an Incumbered Estates Bill, but may be put into operation only upon the voluntary action of landholders themselves.

4. Clause 2.—We have inserted words in sub-clause (h) to make it clear that the word "son," as used in the Bill, includes a son born after the date of a settlement.

5. Additions have also been made to sub-clause (h) in order to recognise adoptions made (i) after the execution of a settlement, by the adoptive father himself, or (ii) within five years after his death, by his widow, if acting under authority lawfully conferred by him. The word "lawfully" has been inserted in sub-clause (ii) in order to exclude adoptions made by a widow in contravention of the Mithila law.

6. We have inserted definitions of "secured debt," "unsecured debt," "secured creditor" and "unsecured creditor," with reference to the new clauses for the protection of creditors which are explained below. We think some line must be drawn to exclude petty debts from the operation of the clauses just referred to, and have accordingly limited the new definition of "unsecured debt" to debts, demands and claims for sums exceeding Rs. 500.

7. We have altered the definition of the word "incumbrance," with reference to the new definitions mentioned in paragraph 6, ante.

8. Clause 3.—We have inserted provisoes to meet (1) cases in which, as under the Mitakshara law, an estate is owned by the family, and not by an individual, the principal member of the family having, beyond his share in the proprietorship, nothing but a right of management as karta; and (2) cases in which, as under the Muhammadan law, a landholder has only a share in an estate, coupled with a right of management over the estate. We consider it desirable that the Bill should extend to both Mitakshara families and Muhammadan families as well as to other classes of people, and the amendments which we have made will adapt clause 3 to such families.

9. Clause 4 is new. It definitely prescribes the signing and verification of applications for permission to settle an estate under the Bill, and states what particulars such applications are to contain, instead of leaving these matters to be dealt with, as was proposed by clause 26 of the Bill as introduced in Council, by rules to be made by the Local Government.

10. Although the Bill contains no clause to confine its application to estates of a particular value, we have inserted a sub-clause, (b), to require the furnishing of particulars as to value, in order that the Local Government may have a ready means of estimating the suitability of an estate for settlement.

11. Sub-clause (c) is important. It prescribes the inclusion, in all applications, of a full list of all incumbrances enforceable against the applicant or against the estate which it is proposed to settle. By virtue of the restriction inserted in the new definition of "unsecured debt," this sub-clause will not apply to debts due to unsecured creditors, not exceeding Rs. 500 in the case of each such creditor. All secured debts, however, must, as the Bill now stands, be mentioned in applications, whatever may be their amount.

12. Clause 5 is also new. It requires an applicant who proposes to settle an estate belonging to a joint Hindu family, or to co-sharers, to send with his application a declaration by himself as to his powers, and a declaration by his co owners or co-sharers, as the case may be, that they are willing to assent to the proposed settlement. Provision is made, in sub-clauses (2) and (3), for the latter declaration being made by guardians or committees, where any co-owners or co-sharers are minors or lunatics.

If the assent of any co-owner or co-sharer should not be obtainable, then the proposed settlement would have to be abandoned, or might, in the case of an estate held by co-sharers, be restricted to the shares of such co-sharers as are willing to assent to it.

13. Clause 7.—We have amended this clause so as—

(1) to require the Local Government to send a copy of every application, when in order, to each creditor and to each co-owner or co-sharer who has declared himself willing to assent to the settlement of the estate, and

(2) to declare that the notification in the Gazette must set forth the application and its accompanying declarations, instead of merely stating the purport of the application.

14. Clause 8.—Sub-clause (ii) has been amended so as to require, in every case in which incumbrances are not discharged prior to making a settlement,—

(1) that a condition be made for the insertion in the settlement of provisions either for the discharge of the incumbrances or for their continuance, with or without modification, and the payment of interest in either case; and

(2) that such provisions shall be subject to the assent of the creditors as well as the approval of the Local Government.

The Bill, as observed in paragraph 3 ante, is not an Incumbered Estates Bill; and the amendments just mentioned are designed in order to prevent its being applied to any estate which is insolvent or heavily indebted, while they will also meet objections taken by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Calcutta Trades Association, with which we are in unison, as to the insufficiency of the Bill, as introduced in Council, to protect the interests of creditors.

The provision as to the continuance of incumbrances will meet such cases as that of the Bettiah loan.

15. Sub-clause (2) of clause 8 empowers the Local Government to refer to a Civil Court disputes as to the right of the applicant to make a settlement; and sub-clause (3) declares that the decision of the Court on any such reference shall be deemed to be a decree, and shall be appealable to the High Court.

16. Clause 9 is new. It declares explicitly that the rejection of an application shall be no bar to the making of a fresh application if the applicant shows sufficient reason for so doing.

17. Clause 10 (1).—Meaning of the expression "three generations."—The object of the Bill, as explained by the Hon'ble Member in charge when introducing it in Council, is to provide a procedure for the settlement of estates for three generations. Some doubt has been felt as to the precise meaning which should be attached to the expression "settlement for three generations."

18. The Bill, as introduced in Council, was drawn on the assumption that A, the settlor (the first tenant for life), A's son B (the second tenant for life) and A's grandson C (the ultimate holder) constitute the three generations who are to be benefited by a settlement made under the Bill.

19. On the other hand, it has been contended that the expression in question should be interpreted as meaning that there should be three tenants for life, namely A, the settlor (the first tenant for life), A's son B (the second tenant for life), and A's grandson C (the third tenant for life); the ultimate holder being A's great-grandson, D.

20. It has been urged that, if there are to be only two tenants for life (including the settlor), the settlor will derive but little benefit from the Bill, inasmuch as under the existing law he can already limit his own interest to a life tenancy, and, if he is subject to the Dayabhaga law, he can also limit the interest of his son (if in being at the time of making the settlement) to a life tenancy; so that all that he would gain by the Bill would be a power to limit to a life tenancy the interest of an unborn son, and a power to grant the estate in remainder to an unborn grandson.

21. Again, it has been urged that, in order suitably to give effect to the policy of settling an estate for three generations, each of these three generations should be mere tenants for life, the ultimate vesting of the estate being postponed to the fourth generation.

22. We are of opinion that the settlor should be excluded in determining the "three generations" who are to be benefited by the Bill, and that accordingly there should be two tenants for life between him and the ultimate holder; and we have revised clauses 2, 10 (1), 11 and 12 (2) so as to give effect to this recommendation.

23. Clause 10 (2).—Sub-clause (2) of clause 10 is almost entirely new. It confines the declaration as to the ultimate absolute ownership of an estate to the case of estates to which the settlor was, immediately before the execution of the settlement, solely entitled; and it introduces two clauses to declare that, where the estate belonged to a joint Hindu family, the ultimate holder shall merely be the karta or manager of the estate, and that, where the estate belonged to co-sharers, the ultimate holder shall merely have the sole right of management over the estate.

The Bill, as now settled, will therefore provide for the restoration of the rights of co-owners and co-sharers, or their descendants, upon the expiration of a settlement.

24. We have, however, added words to clause 10 (2) in order to require the insertion, in deeds of settlement, of an express provision to the effect that the gift to the remainderman is subject to the terms of any fresh settlement made by a tenant for life. Ordinarily the person who would execute a fresh settlement would be the second or third tenant for life, and the main object of a fresh settlement would be to convert the remainderman of the preceding settlement into a life tenant, so as to carry on the settlement for one more generation; and, if an express saving of the right to make such a conversion be inserted in the deed itself, there will be the less reason for objections on the part of the remainderman to the limitation of his interest.

25. Clause 10 (3).—We have amplified this clause so as to make it applicable to cases in which the eldest or only son of the settlor has predeceased him, as well as to cases in which the eldest or only son is a person of proved incapacity or defect of character.

26. We have also inserted words in clause 10 (3) in order to provide in these cases that the second tenant for life may be the son of the deceased or excluded son (as an alternative to another son of the settlor) and that the third tenant for life may be either the son of the second tenant for life or the son of the deceased or excluded son.

27. Clause 11.—We have revised this clause so as to declare expressly that a deed of settlement may provide for an estate being vested, on failure of previous tenants, only in some person who is descended from the settlor or the settlor's father in the direct main line.

28. Clause 12 (2).—We have revised sub-clause (b) so as to require the insertion in settlements of provisions for the maintenance of (1) co-owners and co-sharers (if any) who have assented to the settlement of their shares, and (2) all persons who, at the time of the execution of the settlement, are, or thereafter may be, legally entitled to maintenance out of the estate.

29. We have made an addition to sub-clauses (c), (d) and (e) to require the insertion in settlements of provisions for the management of the estate after the death of a tenant for life and pending the adoption of a son under authority lawfully conferred by him.

30. Clause 12 (3).—We have made an addition to authorise the payment of expenses and remuneration to trustees.

31. Clause 12 (4).—We have inserted words to make it clear that the Local Government may permit the insertion in a settlement of any provisions desired by the settlor; and we have added a proviso to declare that no provisions inserted in pursuance of this sub-clause shall operate to the prejudice of any creditor unless assented to by him.

32. Clause 13.—The proviso is new. The object of sub-clauses (ii) and (iii) is to authorise the making of supplementary settlements in respect of property belonging to co-owners or co-sharers; and they will admit of the addition of any such property which may have been excluded from a settlement in the first instance by reason of the minority of some of the co-owners or co-sharers.

Sub-clause (3) has been amplified so as to bring into full operation, in respect of supplementary settlements of property, the preceding clauses of the Bill relating to first settlements.

33. Clause 14.—This clause is new. It gives to settlors power to apply for permission to make a supplementary settlement for the purpose of substituting new second and third tenants for life for those appointed by a former settlement, in cases in which the second tenant for life appointed by such former settlement dies or shows incapacity or defect of character after its execution.

34. Clause 16.—This clause is almost entirely new. It declares, on the lines of preceding clauses, the procedure to be followed in dealing with applications for permission to make (1) supplementary settlements in respect of persons, and (2) fresh settlements.

35. Clause 17.—Sub-clause (1) and part of sub-clause (5) repeat provisions of the Bill as introduced, but sub-clauses (2) to (4) are new.

Sub-clause (2) declares that all property included in prior settlements must be included in any fresh settlement that may be made. The object of the sub-clause is to prevent the diminution of creditors' security by the making of a fresh settlement. If it should be desired, for any reason, to exclude any property, that can be done under clause 24 (b), before the fresh settlement is made, in which case the rights of creditors will be secured by clause 25.

Sub-clause (3) declares that no property shall be included in a fresh settlement unless it has been included in a former settlement. The object of this clause is to prevent the addition to settled estates by means of a fresh settlement of property which may be encumbered. As the procedure to be followed in dealing with applications for permission to make fresh settlements does not include the making of any inquiry as to incumbrances, it is necessary to exclude fresh property from such settlements. If a tenant for life should wish to add such property, he should do so by means of a supplementary settlement, which can, as the Bill is drawn, only be authorized after full inquiry as to incumbrances has been made.

Sub clause (4) declares, by way of further security, that if any incumbrance dealt with in a former settlement is still in existence when a fresh settlement is made, the fresh settlement shall not affect the rights of the creditor unless he assents to it.

36. Clause 18.—We have inserted a sub-clause providing that in the case of fresh settlements and supplementary settlements in respect of persons the stamp duty shall be a nominal sum of ten rupees.

37. Clause 19.—In view of the special stamp duty on settlements which it is proposed to require by clause 18 of the Bill, it is, we think, desirable to prevent all possibility of succession duties being charged on property, debts or securities covered by a settlement. We have accordingly declared in clause 19 that probate, letters of administration or a succession certificate need not be taken out in respect of such property, debts or securities; and we have added a sub-clause to declare that if any probate, any letters of administration or any succession certificate should purport to cover any such property, debts or securities, no court-fee shall be levied in respect thereof.

38. Clause 20.—In order to prevent difficulties arising from the absence of probate, letters of administration or a certificate granted under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, we have empowered the Local Government to grant a special certificate to the next holder under a settlement after the death of any tenant for life.

39. Clause 21.—Sub-clause (2) is new. It requires local publication of information as to the purport of instruments of settlement.

40. Clause 22.—We have added at the end of this clause the words "which is inconsistent with the provisions of this Act," in order to make it clear that the laws and customs referred to in sub-clauses (a), (b) and (c) are not intended to be abrogated in so far as they are consistent with the provisions of the Bill.

41. Clause 23.—We have added sub-clauses to require that an instrument revoking a settlement be executed, stamped and registered in the same way as an instrument creating a settlement.

42. Clause 25 is new. It declares expressly that incumbrances shall revive upon the revocation, cancellation or amendment of a settlement.

43. Clause 26 is new. Its object is to prevent disputes by declaring that rents of a settled estate, which were in arrear immediately before the death of a tenant for life, shall belong to the next holder of the estate, and not to the heirs, executors, administrators or assigns of such tenant.

44. Clause 27.—We have struck out the words "for any greater interest or time than during his life," which appeared at the end of the corresponding clause (17) of the Bill as introduced in Council. We consider that tenants for life should be debarred from alienating any part of a settled estate or the profits thereof for any period, except, of course, in the cases provided for in clauses 28 and 29 of the Bill; for if alienations were allowed the objects of the Bill would be defeated.

45. Clause 28.—We have transferred from the Local Government to the Civil Court the power to sanction a sale of a settled estate or part thereof by a tenant for life. Such a power can, in our opinion, be best exercised by a judicial tribunal. We have provided for notice of a proposed sale being given to all persons who, but for the settlement, would have been co-owners or co-sharers, and for their objections (if any) being heard and duly considered before the Court determines to sanction a sale.

46. Clause 29.—We have excepted leases up to seven years and leases in perpetuity from sub-clause (2), so as to admit of a premium or fine being taken on them without the consent of the Collector.

47. We have altered sub-clause (3) so as to allow the tenant for life to keep to his own use one-fifth of any premium or fine that he may stipulate to be taken on a lease from year to year or for a term of years, and we have added a proviso to authorise the payment of expenses incurred by, and remuneration to, the trustee.

48. We have struck out, as being unnecessary, the provision in sub-clause (4) which required that rent due under a lease of a settled estate should be payable quarterly.
